William,

We need a response to the follow up question. First, did Mr. Bonck's companies provide mortgages to illegal immigrants? Second, what was the reason for the business's sudden separation from Network Funding?

Thank you,

Appreciate it. Not to parse but this is why I don't like questions in writing. Your candidate says he hasn't given loans but has his mortgage company.

"I'm running in TX-38 because it's where I live, work, and have built my life with my family. I'm proud of the business I've built in Houston, where I've helped over 1,000 American families achieve the American Dream through homeownership. I've never provided a mortgage for an illegal alien. Never. I've been clear that the border must be secured, laws must be enforced, and incentives for illegal immigration must end, a position that has earned me the endorsement of President Donald J. Trump and the National Border Patrol Council. As for my background, I've never hidden it, I moved to Houston after college, built my career over two decades, raised my family here, and when I say Houston is home, I'm speaking to the community I've invested my life in and am fighting to represent." - Jon Bonck

William,

It is not our practice to put questions in writing because the responses prompt more questions. I will make an exception for a few specific questions to Mr. Bonck, who refused for weeks to talk to us. We have interviewed two other candidates in this race. I do not care what percentage people got in the primary. Our questions are legitimate and it is sad that Mr. Bonck cares so little about the taxpayers in District 38 to respond.

However, I would like answers to a few specific questions.

On the issue of district shopping, what does Mr. Bonck say to the voters of District 2 about his decision to change races and why does he think it is appropriate to use their campaign contributions in his current race?

Research shows the company Mr. Bonck runs with his partner offers mortgages under the ITIN program, which is used to provide illegal immigrants mortgages even if they don't have social security numbers. Mr. Bonck has even posted about ITIN loans contributing to growing the business. Explanation?

Was Lasso Lending created to scrub Mr. Bonck's financial assistance to illegal immigrants?

We have traced some of those mortgages to people who live in Colony Ridge, a notorious colonia. Explanation?

Why isn't it totally hypocritical to campaign on being tough on illegal immigration when Mr. Bonck has financially benefited from illegal immigrant mortgages?

Why does Mr. Bonck claim to be a life-long Houstonian when he was born in Louisiana, went to college there, and spent at least two years post-college in Louisiana?

I need responses by 6 pm tonight in preparation for our broadcast. If Mr. Bonck changes his mind about sitting down with us professionally, we will delay the broadcast preparation until Wednesday at 5 pm.

Thanks. Sorry to meet you under these circumstances. We control the editorial product of any investigation we do, and I will be glad to consider posting the entire interview if Mr. Bonck decides to do it. Like this morning, you can record the interaction.

I will say that Mr. Bonck made a huge mistake today by not simply answering legitimate questions.

Thank you,
